

PATRICIA VELLA BONANNO

PROFILE

Dr. Patricia Vella Bonanno is graduated as a pharmacist and continued with post-graduate study in clinical pharmacy, pharmaceutical policy and regulation and in management, in line with the developments of her career.

She has worked in various sectors of the pharmaceutical public sector in Malta including hospital and clinical pharmacy, national medicines formulary management and reimbursement, pharmaceutical policy, pharmaceutical regulation and public health.

She is currently an Advanced Pharmacist Practitioner with the Superintendence of Public Health at the Ministry for Health in Malta and her current work includes health care regulation and membership and secretariat of the Valletta Technical Committee.

She has experience with participation and presentation at various fora and meetings at European level.

She is active in research and is a Visiting Professor with the Strathclyde Institute of Pharmacy and Biomedical Sciences, University of Strathclyde, Glasgow, Scotland, UK.